

考核方法 Evaluation

课程要求 Course Requirements:

The students are required to read the materials before class and actively participate in class discussion. In addition to learning the legal theories, the students are also required to utilize the business law theories to analyze hypothetical cases, write memorandum, and make presentation, or draft business contracts or other documents. Class discussion or practices may be conducted by the students individually or as a group.

选课要求 Enroll Requirement:

Students who decide to enroll in this course must show up in the first week's class.

出勤要求 Attendance:

Attendance is mandatory. Class attendance is essential to learning the course material and passing the exam. Excused absence from class must be communicated to the professor via email prior to the specific class meeting. Unexplained or unexcused absences will be taken into account when calculating your final grade. Any student who has more than 3 unexcused absences may be dropped from the course.

课堂参与 Class participation:

All students are expected to have completed the assigned reading and be prepared to participate in meaningful class discussion. Students may also be required to analyze hypothetical cases, write memorandum, and make presentation, or draft business contracts or other documents. Class discussion may be conducted by students individually or as a group.

考核方式 Examination and Grading:

开卷考试，或课程论文。

Final grade will be based on student's class participation/completion of assignment (40%) and a term paper or a take-home exam (60%). Writing instructions will be announced during the semester.
